Eco-friendly Homes by Rohan

We believe that life must exist alongside Nature, not at the cost of it. We call this ethos ECO Housing. We design our homes with minimal alteration to natural terrain. We also make sure that natural energy is conserved in every possible way.

- Drip irrigation to prevent wastage of water while watering the landscape.
- Rain water harvesting to save precious rain water.
- Wet waste generated is converted to compost.
- Fly ash, a thermal waste, is blended with concrete to enhance the properties of our building structure.
- By acting as a mini biosphere, the natural landscaping plays a part in preserving the local eco system.
- Conserving the existing trees and adding many new trees / plants making project eco friendly.

THE ARCHITECT

Sanjay Mohe is the architect behind the artistry of Rohan Kritika. His graduation from J J School of Architecture ended with prestigious Claude Bartley Gold Medal and since then not even a year has passed without an award.

Mohe lends us a degree of expertise and aesthetics that can only be illustrated by his extensive body of work, including research laboratories, knowledge parks, campus designs, factories and resorts.

In the construction of Rohan Kritika, Mohe synergised his learning from across the world. His conceptualisation of about 400 homes, boasts a unique style that retains architectural elegance while staying close to Nature. His inclusive design intersperses man-made structures with natural green elements in a manner rarely seen in residences.
